STU 210UA: Transfer Strategies
Spring 2022
The University of Arizona

Welcome to STU 210UA! Transfer students come from all walks of life; each with a unique educational experience. The University of Arizona values each and every applicant; especially transfer students. You help make up the wonderfully diverse population of students that we are so proud to service. This document will provide you with instructions for applying to the University of Arizona, and other important information about your transition as a STU 210UA student.

For questions, first check our Frequently Asked Questions section of the STU 210UA webpage at: https://www.arizona.edu/admissions/transfer/stu210 . If you have additional questions, speak to a University of Arizona Transfer Representative.

Qualifying for Admission to the University of Arizona

To qualify for Transfer Admission to the University of Arizona, applicants must have completed at least 12 transferable units of coursework and earned a minimum 2.0 cumulative GPA. Applicants under age 22 must also satisfy the Arizona Board of Regents (ABOR) High School competency requirements.

Some academic majors/colleges have unique or additional entrance requirements (i.e. Eller, Engineering, Nursing, Fine Arts, and Architecture). Please visit the college/department website, or contact an Academic Advisor for detailed information about their application/admission process.

Obey the Code

Students in STU 210UA are eligible* for Priority Registration. This means that your class standing will be determined by the number of credits you've completed at the time of application. You will register for classes as a continuing student, based on your class standing. Honors students will register with this sub-category.

To ensure that every STU 210UA student is identified and cleared for Priority Registration, you must request to be coded. Follow these steps, in order:

1. Submit your online application. Wait 24 hours!
2. Go to the STU 210UA Website, https://www.arizona.edu/admissions/transfer/stu210
3. Click, the "Proceed to Coding" link

If you are not coded for STU 210UA by the coding deadline, you will not qualify for Priority Registration. Coding is one of the most important and required steps of your application process. So, obey the code.

Contact a University of Arizona Transfer Representative with any questions about your application or enrollment.

Track your Application

You can track your application 24/7 with your UA Future Account. Each time a document is processed, your UA Future Checklist will update. You will also receive campus updates and news based on your profile.

Instructions for Applying to the University of Arizona

Complete the following steps by 5:00pm on the deadline date for your class section.

- o Submit your Spring 2022 Application
- o Online Application > Transfer Students
- o Pay the Application Fee: $50 for AZ resident, or $80 for non-AZ resident
- o Get coded for STU 210UA (See: Obey the Code)
- o Submit Official transcripts from EVERY college/university you have attended

  - o For your Pima transcript; instead of submitting a hard copy, you must request an electronic copy of your transcript be sent to the University of Arizona. Log into MyPima or visit the Student Services Center at any Pima campus.

  - o For all other transcripts (including high school, international documents, out-of-state colleges/universities, and CLEP or TOEFL Test Scores), that cannot be submitted electronically, you are required to place official copies in a 9x12 manila envelope and submit them to the Office of Admissions with the STU 210UA Checklist enclosed. See complete instructions on the next page.

  - o Submit Official high school transcript (if you are under 22 years old)

IMPORTANT: Many STU 210UA students will be able to submit all required application materials online and/or electronically. For those students who have additional hard-copy application documents to submit (i.e. high school or other college transcripts), please adhere to the guidelines on the STU 210UA Checklist (next page).

You are required to submit your application and pay the application fee online. Only "additional" hard-copy documents need to be mailed. Do not submit/include duplicate copies of your application or your Pima transcript.

STU 210UA CHECKLIST FOR Spring 2022 APPLICATION
